PANORAMALAND RC&D COUNCIL ACHIEVES CIRCLE OF DIAMONDS RECOGNITION

The National Association of Resource Conservation & Development Councils recently announced that Utah's Panoramaland RC&D Council has been awarded membership in the national Circle of Diamonds. This national recognition is only given to those councils that demonstrate their ability to maintain specific benchmarks set forth in their annual program of work. It demonstrates honesty, integrity, and strong commitment to the RC&D mission.

The Panoramaland Council, headquartered in Richfield, is carrying out many projects that demonstrate their positive impact on the quality of life in Southern Utah. The accompanying photo shows council members in a recent meeting, education efforts in support of cooperative weed management, and work at a local cemetery to help prevent damage from prairie dogs. They continue their work of promoting tourism and economic development, the Wayne County Recycling Project, and the mitigation banking project in support of Utah Prairie Dog recovery.
