UTAH HOOP HOUSE FEATURED ON USDA VIDEO NEWS RELEASE

Morgan County Farmer Jason Morgan and NRCS Area I Staffer Danny McBride were featured on a USDA video news release posted today. There is both a 2-minute version being distributed to agriculture media (and featured in the attached press release summarizing FY 2010 NRCS-funded seasonal high tunnels) and a 4-minute lighter version created specifically for YouTube. The Morgan family is an important component of both pieces, and we are delighted that they were include in both pieces, as well as in the press release.

Both versions are posted on YouTube. Here are the links:

Both Jason and Danny braved the weather and worked around the Thanksgiving holiday with Public Affairs Specialist Ron Francis to provide the video and photos. State Conservationist Sylvia Gillen expressed her appreciation for their good work and for all the good work many of you are doing to promote the seasonal tunnel systems for crops in Utah.
